

CHAPTER 3 : THE DELHI SULTANATEI SHORT ANSWER TYPE QUESTIONS

1. List the five Dynasties that ruled during the Delhi Sultanate

DELHI SULTANATE

2. Write a brief note on Khilji Dynasty.

The Khiljis ruled for three decades. They were very ambitious and wanted to expand the empire. They were able rulers and good administrators and worked for all around development of the empire. They consolidated a huge empire and introduced market control policies.

3. Who were Mamluk Sultans?

The rulers of the Slave dynasty were Mamluk Sultans. Mamluk in Arabic means 'owned'. The early sultans of this dynasty were slaves, but because of their intelligence and hard work, they rose to powerful positions.

4. Identify the duties of Shahna-i-Mandi.

Shahna-i-Mandi's duties was to prepare the list of prices of various commodities, to register merchants and to keep an eye on their activities. Shahna-i-Mandi also looked after the royal granary, controlled the markets, and kept a constant check on the weights and measures.

5. Outline the main features of the Iqtas System.

The Kingdom was divided into territories called Iqtas. The nobels who had villages or lands under their control were called Iqtadars or Muqtis. They were usually military commanders. They also collected land revenue and other taxes.

II LONG ANSWER TYPE QUESTION:

1. Describe the rise of Delhi Sultanate and identify the key factors that contributed to its establishment.

* In the early medieval period, Delhi began to develop into an important place. Tomara Rajputs were the first to make Delhi their Capital City.

* Coins called "Dehliwal" were also minted in Delhi during this period. Delhi gained more importance as a royal Capital City by the beginning of the 13th Century.

* Muhammad Ghori died without an heir. Hence, his generals captured his territories and established their rule.

* Qutubuddin Aibak established his rule over the Indian territories and thus, began the phase of Delhi Sultanate.

Civics - Chapter 2 - The role of Government in Healthcare

I SHORT ANSWER TYPE QUESTIONS :

1. Define health.

Health is a state of physical and mental well-being. Health also includes mental health.

2. Name the two kinds of healthcare systems available in India.

In a Country like India, healthcare is a very challenging task. A large number of public and private hospitals and other medical centres are functioning all across the Country.

3. How does Communicable diseases spread.

21% of all communicable diseases are water borne. The unavailability of clean water to a large population is the main cause of such diseases.

4. Where was India's first blood bank established?

The first Indian blood bank was established during the World War-II in Kolkata.

II LONG ANSWER TYPE QUESTION :

1. Explain the role of private healthcare in India's healthcare system.

* A wide range of private healthcare facilities exists.

* In India, Urban areas have a large number of doctors who for private healthcare facilities.

* Such facilities are owned by individuals or business organisations.

* Many hospitals and nursing homes are part of private healthcare and provide facilities such as blood test, x-ray, ultrasound, etc.

* As per the law, medicines should be sold only as per the prescription from a doctor.